50p

can support a child in Kenya with safe, clean water during their time in school

as they no longer have to make the long journey twice a day to collect water. Without water in their schools, children can be forced to walk and then queue for hours for their turn at a borehole or pump, meaning that they can miss school frequently. When they are able to return to school in time, often they are so tired from the journey that they cannot concentrate on their studies - making them fall further behind.

They are also healthier

When children are forced to collect water, it often comes from sources that are dirty and unsafe, meaning that the children fall ill, miss more school and their families have to pay expensive doctors' bills to make them better. When children have access to safe, clean water through Just a Drop's projects, the children are healthier, have safe water to drink and don't miss school due to illness!

Did you know that every year more than 3.4 million people die as a result of water related diseases? It's the leading cause of disease and death around the world.

Girls are empowered!

Girls in particular are able to attend school for longer as they can easily access clean water on their periods. We train the schools in Menstrual Hygiene Management which eases inequalities and breaks down entrenched taboos!

The environment improves!

In environments where drought is common, having access to a sustainable water source reverses the effects of climate change. All of our projects are also entirely sustainable and last for years to come!

And communities are protected from COVID-19

With access to water, hygiene practices such as hand washing, become common, leading to long-term health benefits and protecting the community from the spread of COVID-19!
